

GIVE TO THE CHUCK HAYTAIAN MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Garabed “Chuck” Haytaian, the founder of Warren County Community College, dedicated his career to public service and improving educational opportunities for the Warren community. As a Warren County Freeholder, he led the initiative to establish the college, recognizing the critical need for accessible, high-quality education was essential. His vision and determination transformed this idea into reality, creating a lasting resource for generations of students. To honor his impact, the college’s library was named the Haytaian and Maier Library, reflecting his partnership with co-founder Christopher Maier, and symbolizing their shared commitment to education.

Beyond his educational efforts, Chuck was a passionate community advocate. He served as a trustee of the college, as well as supported numerous public initiatives. Chuck’s true legacy is his love of family and friends, his dedication to public service with his unwavering commitment to support the success of others.
